

National HIV Curriculum

The National HIV Curriculum is an AIDS Education and Training Center Program and led by the University of Washington.

Contributors Site Overview

Funded by a grant from the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA)

National HIV Curriculum

- ➔ FREE, up-to-date website for novice to expert clinicians to learn about HIV diagnosis, care, treatment, and prevention
- ➔ 97 FREE CME credits, MOC points, CNE contact hours, CE contact hours, 70 FREE pharmacology CE for advanced practice nurses, and certificates of completion available
- ➔ Six modules with 37 self-study lessons address:
  - Screening and Diagnosis
  - Basic HIV Primary Care
  - Antiretroviral Therapy
  - Co-Occurring Conditions
  - Prevention of HIV
  - Key Populations
- ➔ Question Bank with 450+ interactive board-review questions with CE
- ➔ 17 clinical screening tools and calculators provide clinical decision support
- ➔ Antiretroviral Medications section that includes in-depth information on prescribing, clinical studies, and slide decks
- ➔ Innovative group learning tool to assign units and track members' progress – a popular feature used by clinics, healthcare professional training programs, and health departments
- ➔ The National HIV Curriculum is an AIDS Education and Training Center Program led by the University of Washington (UW)
- ➔ UW Professor of Medicine Dr. David Spach is Editor-in-Chief of this site and the CDC-funded National STD Curriculum (www.std.uw.edu), Hepatitis C Online (www.hepatitisC.uw.edu), and Hepatitis B Online (www.hepatitisB.uw.edu)

This project is an AIDS Education Training Center (AETC) Program supported by the Health Resources and Services Administration (HRSA) of the U.S. Department of Health and Human Services (HHS) as part of an award totaling $1,000,000 with 0% financed with non-governmental sources.